Sir Banister Fletcher's Global History of Architecture is the acknowledged classic reference work for architectural history. It has been essential reading for generations of architects and students since the first edition was published in 1896 - and this tradition continues today as the new 21st edition provides the most up-to-date, authoritative and detailed account of the global history of architecture available in any form. Thousands of major buildings from around the world are described and explained, accompanied by over 2,200 photographs, plans, and drawings. Architectural styles and traditions are placed within a clear framework, and the chronological and geographical arrangement of the work's 102 chapters allows for easy comparative analysis of cultural contexts, resources, and technologies.

A History of Architecture' is the world's acknowledged classic work of architectural history reference. Declared the 'Book of the Century' by the American Institute of Architects, it has become essential reading for generations of architects and students. This landmark new edition brings an authoritative, detailed, and thoroughly contemporary understanding to the world's buildings and the contexts in which they were built.00New to this edition: Full colour illustrations; Rewritten throughout to provide a culturally and geographically balanced analysis of architecture throughout history; Addresses key topics of current critical concern such as sustainability and cross-cultural exchange; Emphasizes the cultural contexts, people, resources and technologies behind architecture.
