The Velodyne Acoustics ULD-12 powered subwoofer brings the essential characteristics of the company's previous models, which used 15-and 18-inch drivers, to a smaller, lighter, and less expensive product. The "ULD" nomenclature stands for "ultra-low distortion." All the Velodyne ULD subwoofers are motional-feedback speakers; that is, an accelerometer attached to the voice coils supplies a negative-feedback signal to the input from the driving amplifier.
